THE OLD MAKES

South Campus Building Constructed in 1922

Gymnasium now a par

Once this building was new and the pride of all the students who attended it. Now everyone calls it the "old" building, and it is old, 51 years old as of 1973. Apparently this is too old for a school to be, because starting in the fall semester of 1972 new buildings were ready to be occupied by students.

Now the sight of students walking through the doors of the "old" building is rare. Looking at the rooms now it is hard to believe that classes actually occupied them once. In some cases the rooms have been remodeled so much that they don't even resemble classrooms anymore.

Perhaps we're not all heartbroken about leaving the "old" building, but I'm sure that many of us will think thoughtfully about it in years to come.

Present plans call for the now-abandoned South Campus building to be remodeled for the headquarters staff currently housed in the Veterans' home in Yountville.

WAY FOR THE NEW

New Administration Building – Fall of 1972

ıe New Napa High School

What was once called "The Green" is now the site of the new Napa High School. "The Green" was a meeting place where friends gathered for sack lunches or just lounged around on the soft grass. Now the large, grassy area is just a memory tucked away in the past as we view the new buildings.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held in the middle of October, 1971, and the new cafeteria and lecture hall were completed by September, 1972.

The Social Science wing of the Administration Building was first to open in October, with students hauling their desks from the old South Campus building to the new area. As each building was completed students and faculty moved into it, with the Business Department the last to gain occupancy in early 1973.

All of the new structures have wall-to-wall carpeting in both rooms and corridors, and each features a large centralized study area equipped with study carrels. Many of the rooms have folding partitions which can be opened to provide a large space for discussions and film presentations.

New Faces

Getting used to the new type of halls was one of the adjustments that had to be made when classes moved into the new buildings. Seen here is the B-wing just a few weeks after its opening. With the entire building carpeted, lighted, and air-conditioned it took awhile to get accustomed to. The halls were not just made to study in or to be used while passing to your next class. Shown here is a class having a good time as they dance to recorded music.

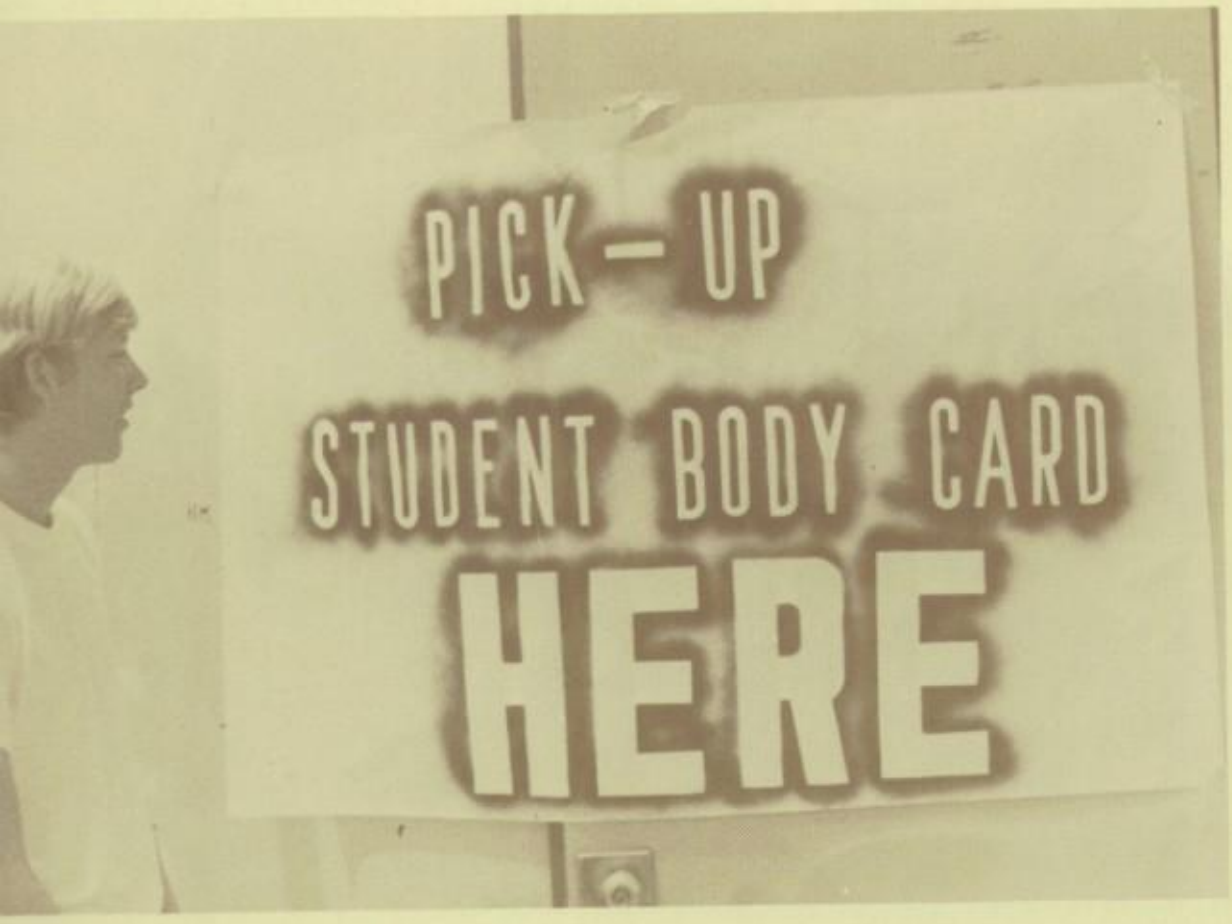
And New Places

Spirited rally attracts many students to join in the fun activities of the school year to promote school spirit. Shown here is the Skit club doing one of their things at one of our football rallies.

For '73

With the building of the new cafeteria, many students enjoy the comfort of warm surroundings and good food as they spend their lunch hour. Besides new walls, new furniture was added to give a pleasant look. Cindy Robnett, (foreground), shakes a precautionary finger at the yearbook photographer.

Activities



This sign told students where to get their student body cards. Jerry Lomonico is shown here about to recieve his card.

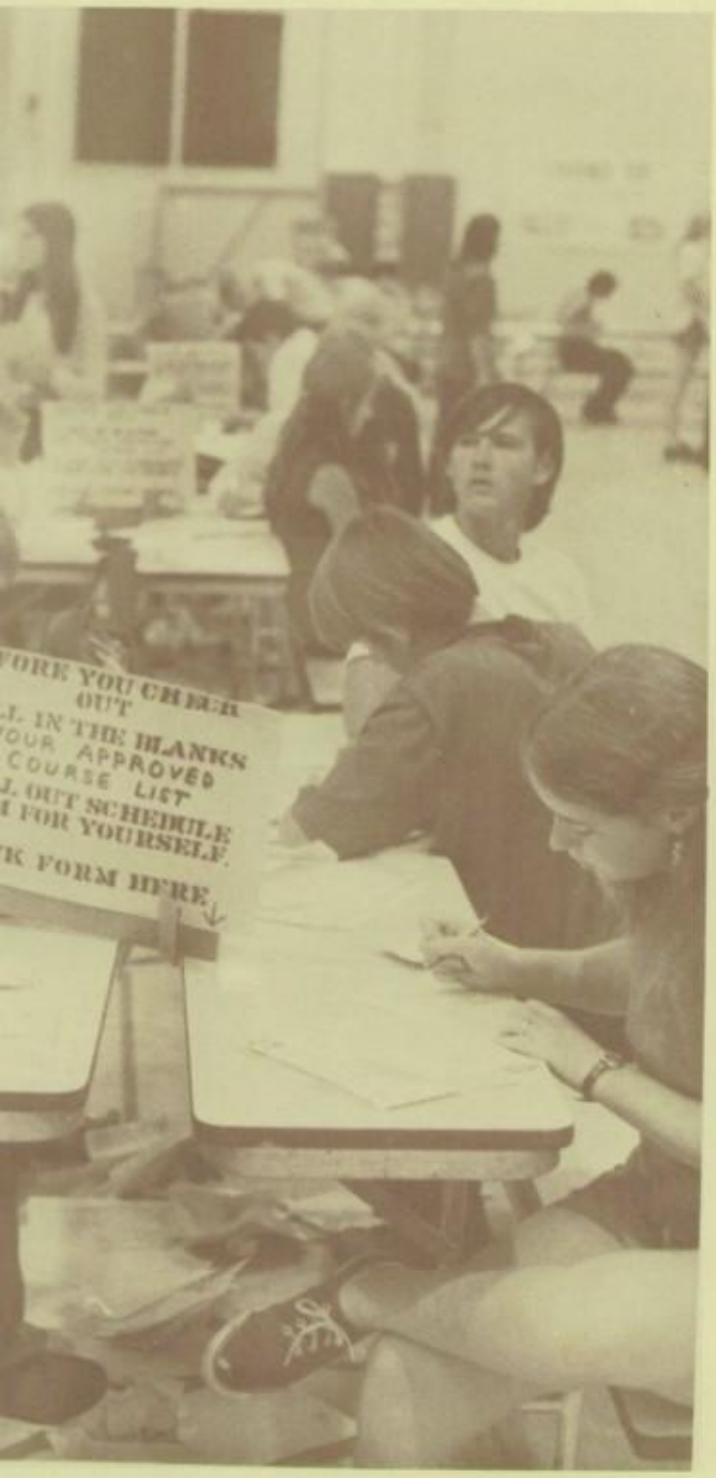
This is a view overlooking the self-scheduling activities. Most people agreed that self-scheduling is a good thing to have.

Bill Simons, instructor with the Regional Occupational Program, assists students with self-scheduling prior to the opening day of school.

Ceramics teacher Elena Kuhn and student Sue Myrtle are helping people with their schedules.

Self-Scheduling Before Opening Day

Mr. Fotinos and Mr. Silva talk to Becky Teaford about her schedule.

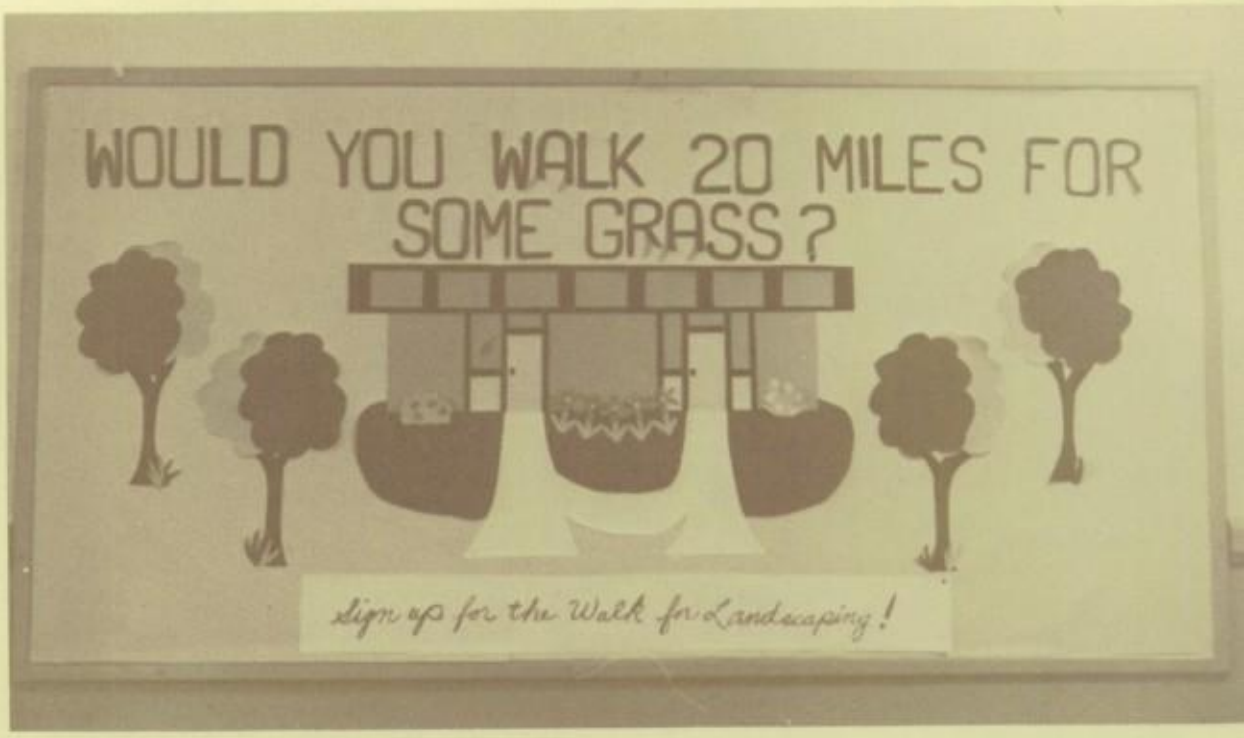


Before leaving the self-scheduling area all the students had to fill out forms, check computer cards, and keep it all together before going out the door.

Counselors had their share of paper work also. Many students, like Dave Whitmer (foreground), had the patience to stand in line and wait until the counselors were free to handle a student's scheduling problems.

They Walked For Landscaping

A bond issue paid for our new high school but the landscaping funds weren't included. So the students, faculty, and Junior Chamber of Commerce, plus other service groups, put their collective shoulders to the wheel and with various projects raised the necessary $15,000.
A "Walkathon" netted $4200 early in the fall.



The message is credited with doubling the number of participants.

Walkathon hikers take a welcome break in the 20-mile hike from St. Helena to Napa.

Five tired but happy hikers near the end of their "Walk For Landscaping."

The weary walkers take time out at the Veterans home and hospital in Yountville, (halfway point), for a quick snapshot.

Tired walk-a-thon students refresh their feet with a spray of foot powder at one of the many relief stations manned by Junior Chamber of Commerce personnel.

"Silva," a stray dog, was sponsored by Frank Silva, assistant principal, to walk the entire twenty miles. "Silva" made the walk and Frank Silva lived up to his end of the bargain and paid his promised fee toward the landscaping fund.

Landscaping Begins For Our New High School

Beth Heid, Lee Lambert, and Terri Ow-Wing help spade up the center green of the new Napa High on a chilly morni in December. Several Saturday mornings and afternoons were spent by a group of volunteer students, faculty, and Ju ior Chamber of Commerce members installing an underground sprinkler system, preparing a seed-bed, and plantin grass.

Stadium Gets New Coat of Paint

Painting the stadium wasn't just work as a lot of students had fun while they painted. Shown here is Carole Hancock in one of her great moods.

Several students showed up with paint brushes while the paint was provided by the Booster Club. Shown here is Kathy Tronstad, Dana Moody, and Val Silva who worked to get the stadium finished on time.

Everyone got into the act of painting the stadium, even Mr. Feist, dean of activities at Napa High. The Napa side had a fresh coat of blue and gold while the other side was given to Vintage who colored it Burgundy and Gold. A handful of students showed up to paint the stadium as truly the old made way for the new.

These twelve rally girls are shown during one of the many skits they did all year for school assemblies in the gym. This particular one featured each participant dressed to represent various occupations, and each rally girl sang an amusing song about her particular profession.

Rallies Promote

Shown here is Becky Carpenter, master of ceremonies at a rally. Here she introduces one of the skits that was presented at one of our winter rallies.

One of the many highlights of any school year are the rallies. Everyone works hard to bring off each rally. The yell leaders and pom-pom girls generate spirit all around the campus. Everyone seems to enjoy the skits that are done at many of the rallies. There is a special skit committee and each member works very hard. Shown here are Jim McCloud, Diane DeLong unknown, Angela Francheschi and Lois Williams.

School Spirit

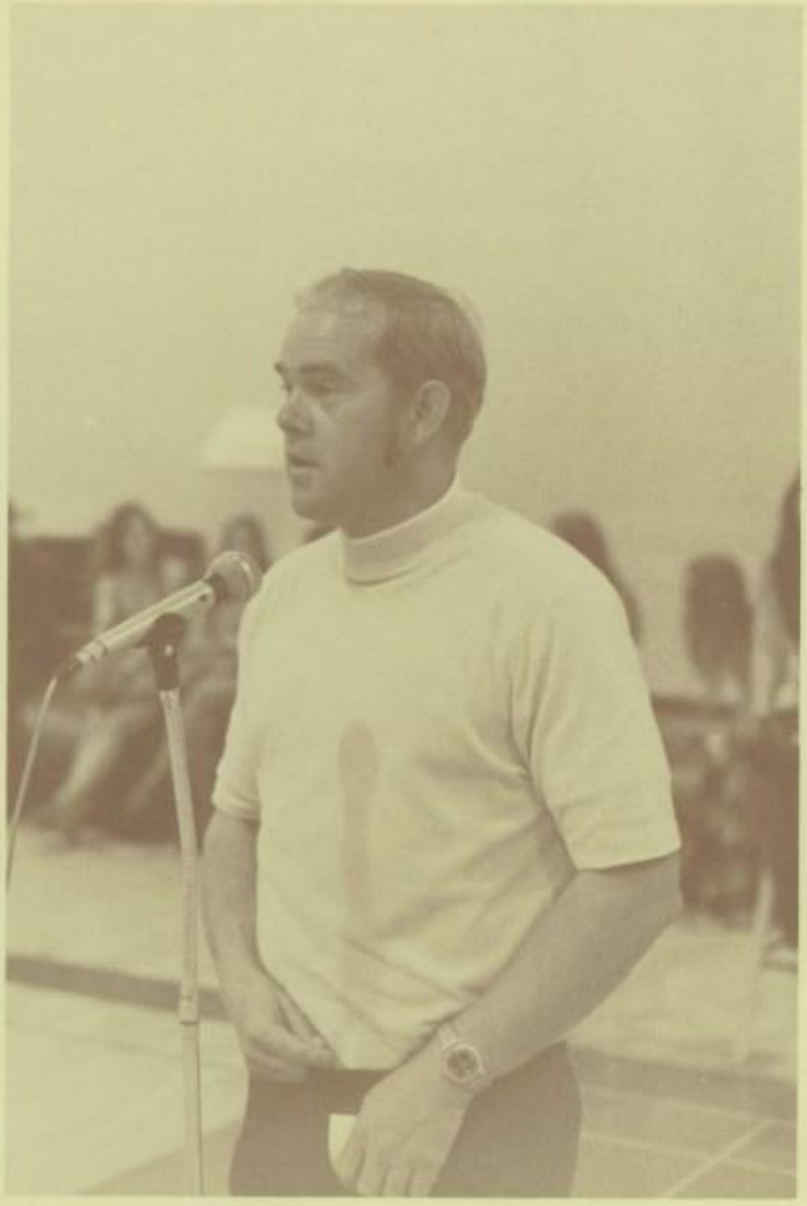
Julie Blackney and Jan Ellis are shown doing one of their many routines at a rally held in the gym.

John McDaniel, junior, glances between two merrymakers as the three students are on their way to a Spirit Week rally.

. . . and More Rallies

Lynn Scheidecker, Cindy Carter, Lisa Spain, and Julie Brown do their thing at one of the many rallies which were held during the school year. The rally squads did more than yells and pompon routines. Here they did a skit on "If I weren't a rally girl, this is what I'd be."

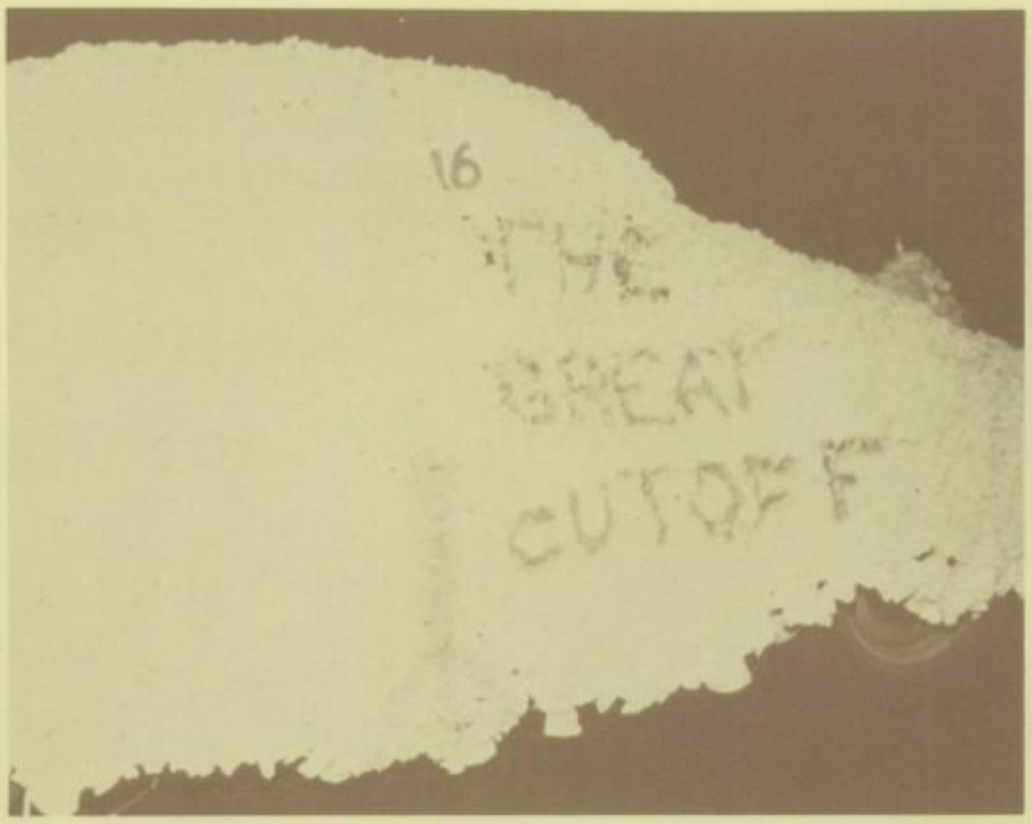
Together all the girls promoted school spirit during the school year.



Coach Orr is shown addressing the student body during a rally. He led our football team through a satisfactory season. Here he is demonstrating his ability to raise "spirit" at a rally.

The A.S.B. officers got into the act at the rallies. In the early part of the school year, the A.S.B. officers did a skit to "Sister Mary Elephant."

Spirit Week Events March On



Seniors showed that they can do it as they won first place for best decorated auto in this year's car rally during spirit week.

Block N showed their true colors as their fine efforts were put forth for the car rally. This truck was the lead car for Julie Pierson, Spirit Queen candidate, who was sponsored by the Block N.

Many spirited students took part in this year's spirit week events which included a car rally, decorating the school, special events which took place every day, the football game against Petaluma, and the crowning of the 1972 Spirit Queen. Even though it did rain a little, students and faculty enjoyed the week's events and it goes to prove the Napa Indians have the most spirit no matter what.

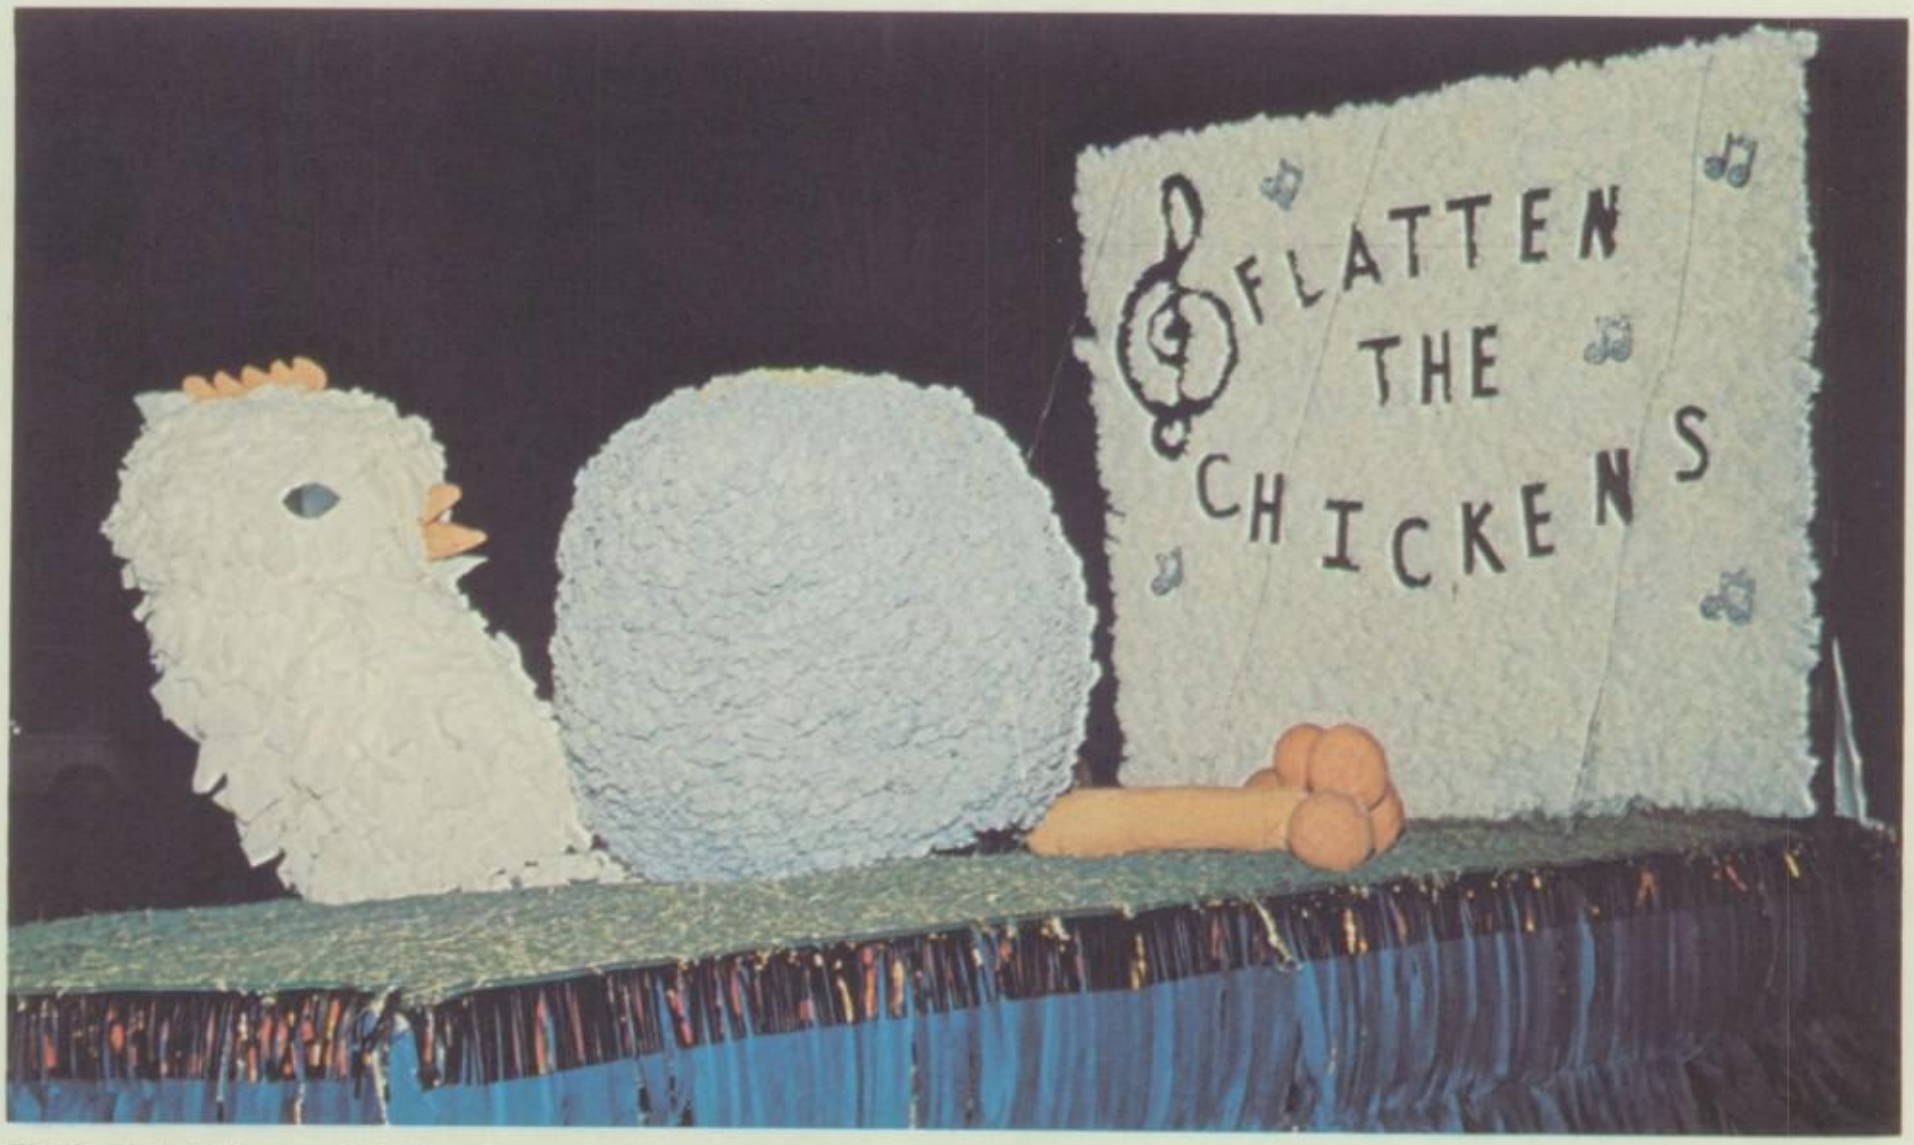
Friends help to get the Cruising car ready for the big car rally. Every student worked hard to put the finishing touches on all of the floats and cars and the fun and joy was shared by all.

Car Rally Big Success

You can always say the press is there as the Napa High Press Club took part in the Spirit Week car rally. The Press car took first place for the most spirited car. Shown here are l–r, sitting, Joyce Register, Fred Doss, and Pam Sharrow. Standing l–r, Debbie Stanga, Lynda Pascoe, Sandi Sousa, Jerry Molsberry, and Svin Karlson.



The Choir took the award for Best Decorated Float this year. Many students worked hard hours to finish the float on time, as all students did for the Spirit Week events.

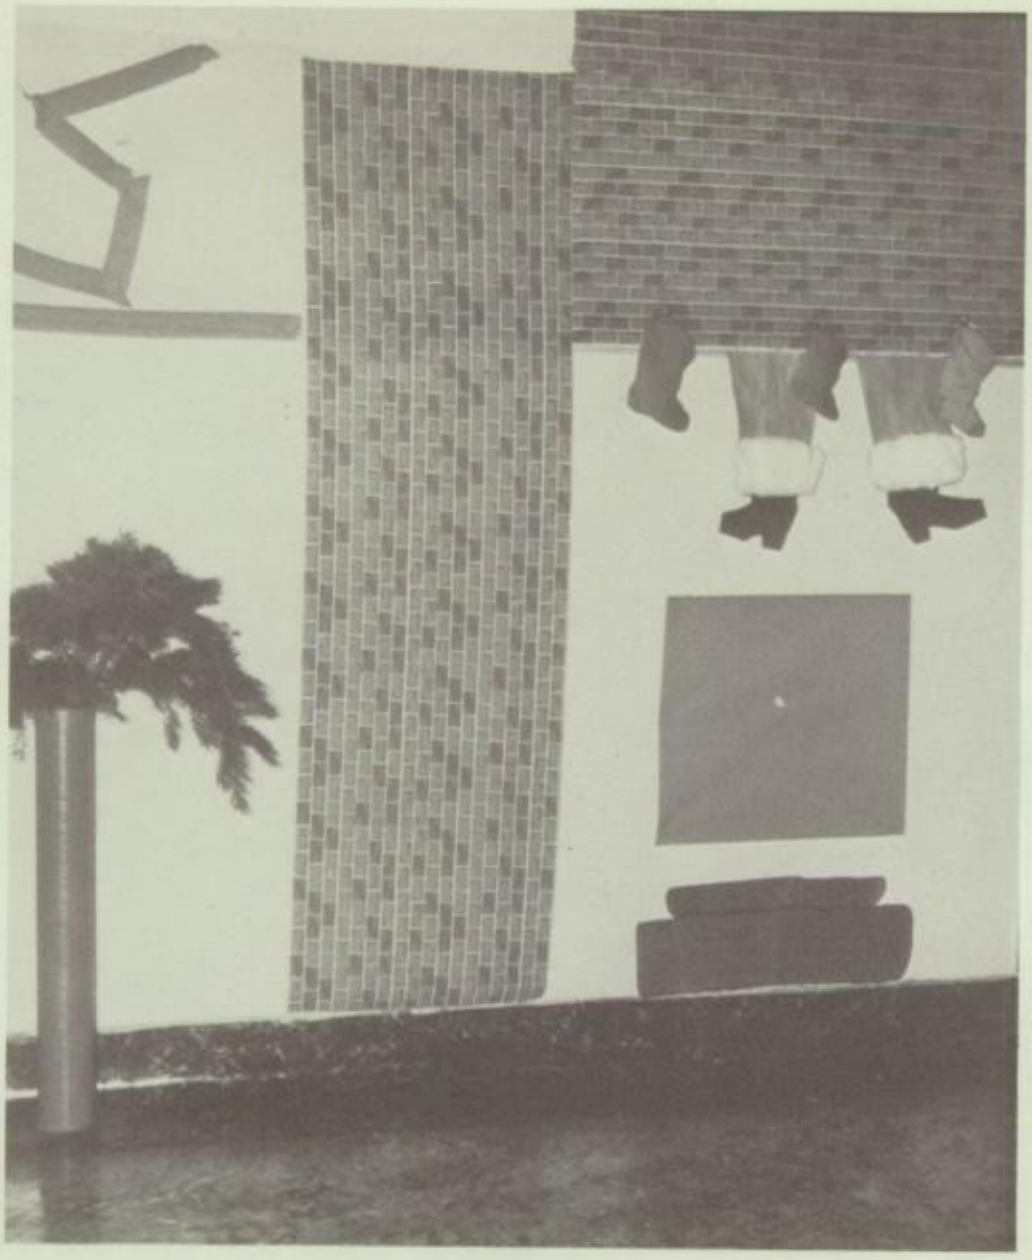
Every department of the school does its little bit to decorate the campus. This tree was in the principal's office in the new high school cluster complex.

Right: Even Raggedy Ann got into the Christmas spirit.

Juniors did a great job decorating this tree, as they did in decorating their part in the main hall.



Look who's coming down the chimney.

Not only the other classes decorated their rooms, but the Injun-eer and Yearbook staff did a good job as they had this little tree in the Journalism room.

Christmas Spirit At Napa

This year all the classes did their part in making the hall decoration a great success. The classes were judged by clean-up as well as the quality of the decorations.

The senior class were the runners-up in the contest. The theme of their decorations was "Dear Santa, this is what I want for Christmas."

They had many ideas as they had enlarged pictures of what every child would love to receive for Christmas from Santa.

The sophomores did a fantastic job even though just a few students showed up to help with the decorations on their theme "Merry Christmas."

Juniors got it together this year as they won hall decs. Their theme was "Juniors salute Scrooge."

All classes really put out their best efforts to improve the Christmas spirit around Napa High. Truly, the old made way for the new.

Christmas Hall Dec's - 1972

The Junior Class won the Hall Decorations this year as the Juniors theme was, "The Junior Class Salutes Scrooge." All the students worked hard to make this a real great season.

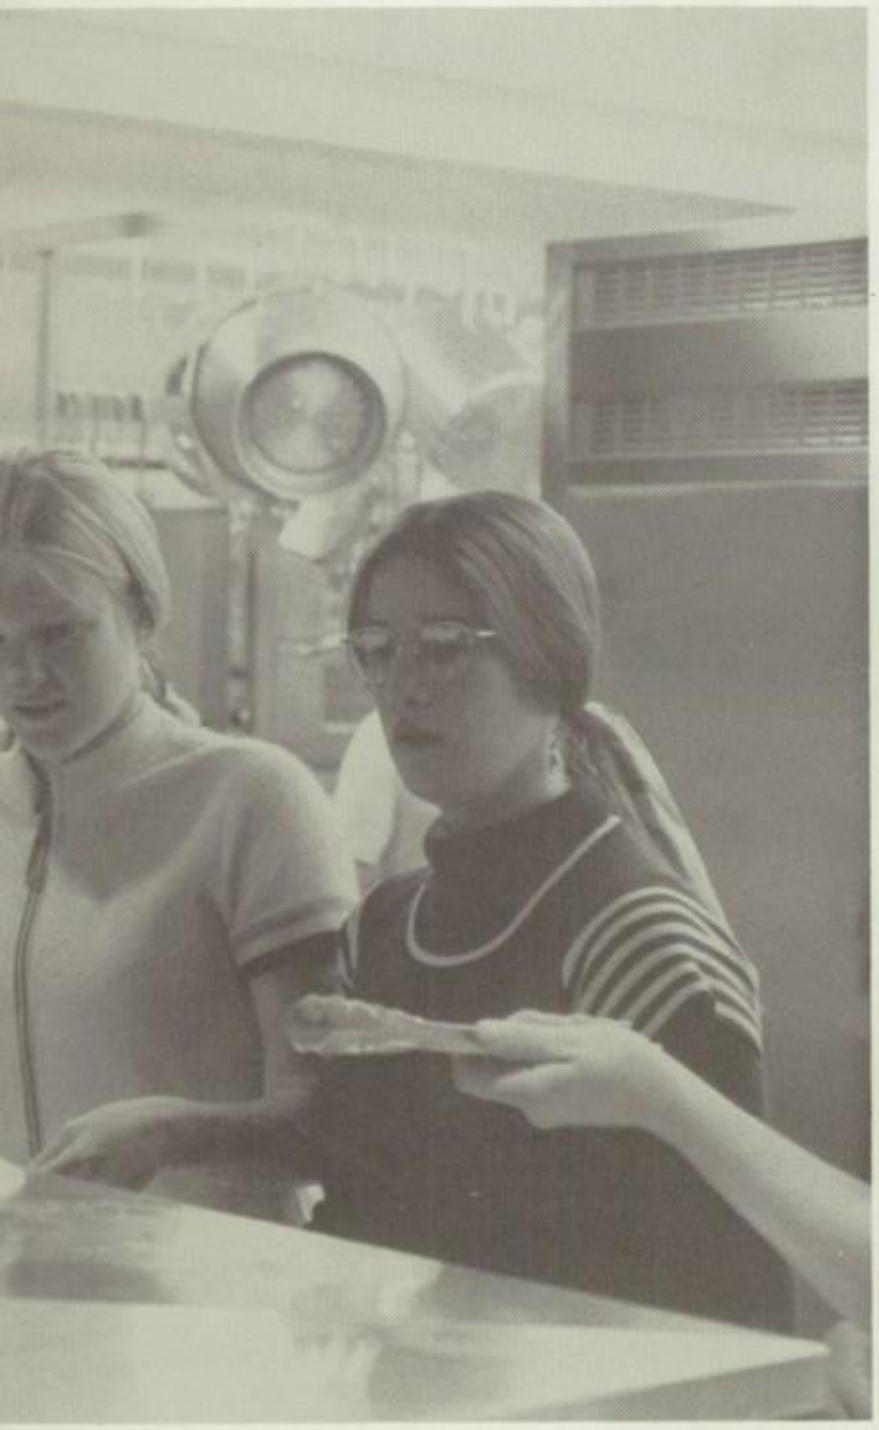
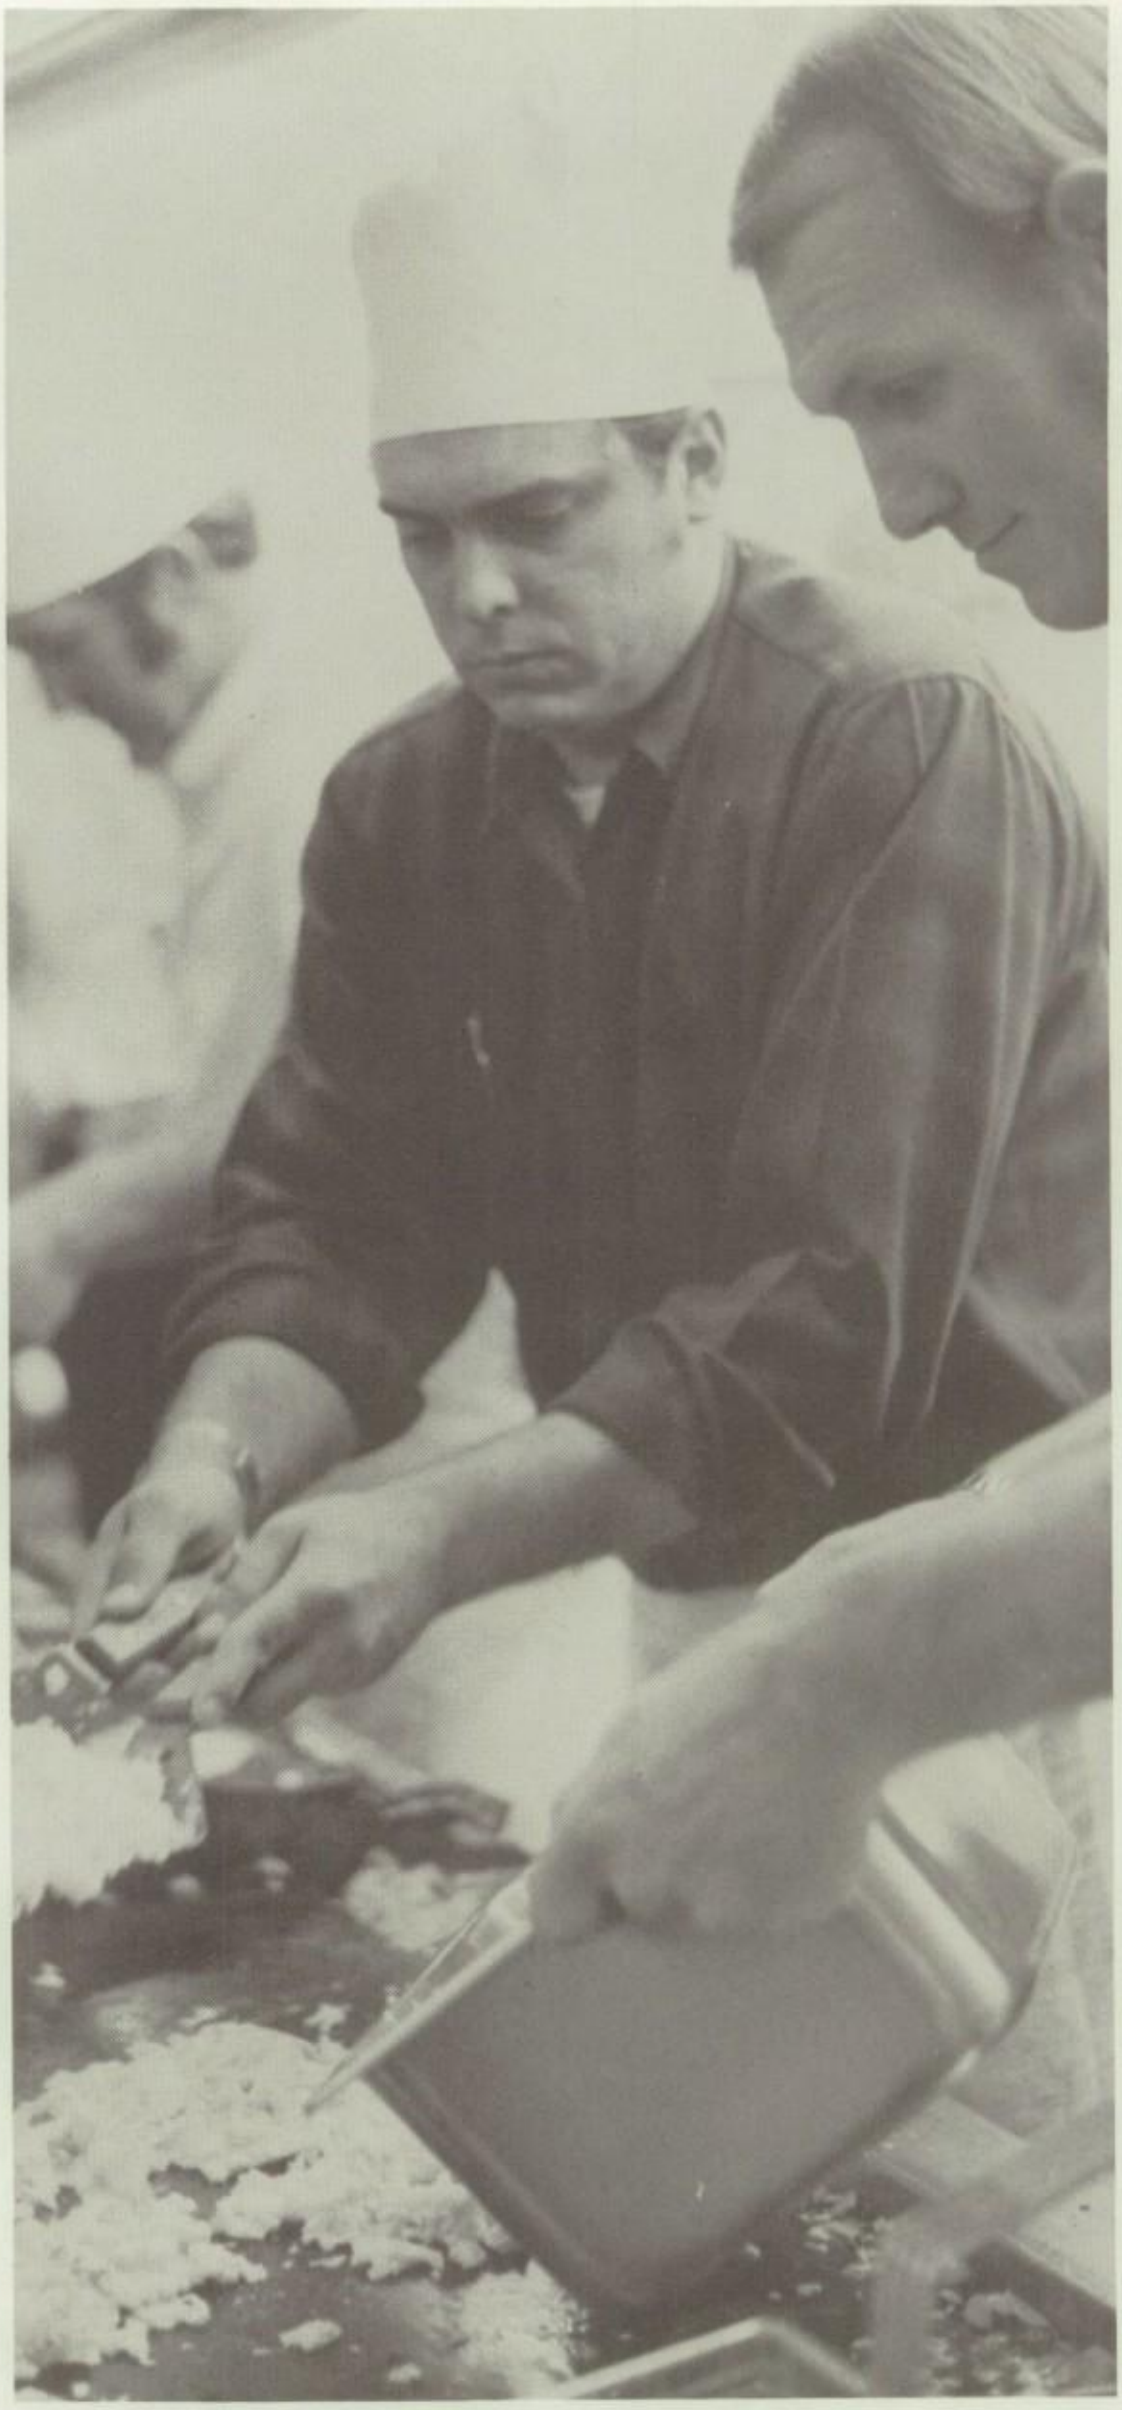
Pancake Breakfast Nets Money

With the building of the new Napa High campus, many of the trees, plants, and grass were destroyed. Students and faculty thought of many money raising events to secure money for the landscaping of the campus when the new buildings were completed. One such event was the Pancake Breakfast.

Students, faculty, and members of the community filled the cafeteria on the morning of December 6, 1972, to enjoy hot buttered pancakes, eggs, sausages, milk, and coffee. The plan of all those who worked on the project was to get more people into the cafeteria to eat, so there was no 1st period so students and faculty could enjoy the breakfast.



Debbie Owen and Becky Carpenter help serve the morning breakfast of pancakes. Money from this event went to the landscaping of the new Napa High.



Ron Feist and a willing helper scramble eggs for those who desired them at the pancake breakfast. A fun time was had by all as students arrived early to get their fair share of the good food.

For Landscaping of Napa High

Students line up to get their plates full of buttered pancakes, eggs, sausages, milk, and coffee. A net profit of about $600 was made from this event.

A net profit of $600 was made for the landscaping project, as Mr. Feist, Mr. Silva, students, and Jay Cres, just to name a few, helped serve, cook and plan this money-making event.

The money was spent on many trees, bushes, and grass seed. Students and faculty worked one Saturday to plant the different kinds of plants.

The Walk for Landscaping and the pancake breakfast resulted in a profit of about $4,800. The true spirit of Napa High marches on as the old makes way for the new.

Many students took part in the pancake breakfast as students, faculty and members of the community filled the cafeteria to enjoy a morning breakfast of hot, buttered pancakes.

Napa Wins Sportsmanship Trophy

Napa won the trophy on the basis of sportsmanship displayed during the Napa-Vallejo football and basketball games played this past year.

Napa High has received the trophy seven times since the sportsmanship program was initiated in 1962. This year's victory marks the first time either school has won three years in a row.

ROP Auto III Program Outstanding

The letters ROP stand for Regional Occupation Program, supported in part by the federal government. Seven out of some 48 students enrolled in our auto shop program have part time jobs in downtown auto-related businesses.

Two out of ten senior boys in the Auto III class were assured by last February that they had definite jobs when they graduated. Gary Love, pictured above with instructor Bill Simons, has been encouraged by Pontiac to go to their training school when he graduates.

The ROP program has been in operation in Napa High for three years. Ten students are usually selected from the 48 enrolled to work nine hours a week at an automotive job with a skilled mechanic always available to supervise their work. The boys get school credit for this plus $1.65 per hour.

This program prepares the student so that he is on a job-entry skill level when he graduates.

Voting 1973

Students voted for new A.S.B. and Class officers on the new stage. Shown here is Patte Hard dropping her vote in the ballot box. Jeannie Cox looks surprised as she is caught at the polls.

Signs are posted everywhere as elections come around and this year was no exception.

Spring A.S.B. and Class elections were held Friday, January 26. Results were A.S.B. President, Janet Swift; Vice-president, Jim Laughlin; Secretary, Karin Gillerstrom; Treasurer, Teresa Ow-Wing; Commissioner of Activities, Diane Levan; Communications Coordinator, Frank Tai; Commissioner of Public Relations, Sue Myrtle; Commissioner of Buildings and Grounds, Val Clerici; Commissioner of Rallies and Assemblies, Debbie Brown; Spirit Squad Representative, Jody Hoffman; Commissioner for Political Involvement, Debbie Bernard; Chief Justice, Neal O'Haire. The presidents of each class were: Drew Aquilar, Seniors; Teresa Ow-Wing, Juniors: and Kathy Trunstad, Sophomores.

Election day brought many students out to vote. Several are shown as they cast their ballot.

Napa High Girls' State Reps

Karin Gillerstrom was selected to represent Napa High at this year's Girls' State from June 18–25 at the Olymp Village in Squaw Valley.

Karin was sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion, and has close to a 4.0 scholastic averag She also tutored at Silverado Junior High and was involved in student government.

Valerie Clerici was chosen as Karin's alternate to attend Girls' State in case Karin could not make it. Her scholast achievements and participation in extra-curricular activities parallels that of Karin.

Mrs. A. Frank Ferran was the chairman of the selection committee of the American Legion Auxiliary Napa Un No. 113 which provided the financing for the Napa High representative.

National Merit Scholarship Finalists

Three Napa High students have been chosen as this year's National Merit Scholarship Finalists. Eric Stark, Sigrid Karlsson, and Jeff McKay were this year's finalists, from Napa High.

Each awards finalist receives a scroll plus recommendation to all colleges and universities that he be considered for scholarships. Runners-up also receive recommendations and the school receives a certificate of recognition.

Napa Navel Nailers Beat Burgundy Bruisers 26-22

With the splitting of the high school, a lot of events had to be changed, such as the annual girls Powder Puff football game. About 50 spirited girls from Napa, known as the Napa Navel Nailers, showed their true colors as they beat the Vintage Burgundy Bruisers, 26–22.

Coaches for the Napa team were: Head Coach, Drew Aguilar, and his assistants: Dave Templeton, Bill Bardakos, Scott Jenson, Ken Bunyard, Jim Nord, and Doug Kirk. Together they put out a fantastic team. All worked together to gain the great victory.

The player of the game was Robin Simas of the Napa team. Robin really surprised the Vintage team as she ran in two touch downs as well as making two extra points. Quarterback Mary Brannigan had a great night as she did well in passing, as well as running the ball for touchdowns for Napa. Every girl worked hard to make the game a success and it was truly a great victory as the old made way for the new.

All the girls worked hard to beat Vintage 26–22. Shown here are: 83 Kathy Gatton, 40 Carole Hancock, 42 Gina Bertagna, 20 Robin Simas and behind 40 is Sandy Allen.

Coaches' Corner

Napa High owes our football coaches a great big vote of thanks for the excellent year our teams had in spite of the muddiest, rainiest fall Napa has experienced in recent history. And there's just you and me

And the rest of the team

But we can win this game

We've got to win—for Napa

But we have to stick together—

Feeling bad because of a defeat

Feeling good because of a win.

The competition is rough out there

But we've got the pride

And if we fight together,

If we stick together,

We'll make it in this world . . . .

As a team.

Swinford Goes To State Finals

Wrestling Has Hard-fighting Year

Our wrestling team had a hard-fighting year in 1972–73. With approximately 26 boys needed, we had only about 20. As a result, when the time came for matches we would have to forfeit, and the opponents would win by our forfeits.

The boys, however, pulled through, did a great job, and improved as the year progressed. One wrestler, in particular, did an outstanding job – Bob Swinford.

Bob went to the NBL's with a very bad knee, knowing what would result if it started acting up again. In spite of his injured knee, Bob won first place in the 148 Weight Class.

At the conclusion of the NBL's, he received a most welcome surprise. He was named the "Outstanding Middle Weight Champion!" With this first place rating, his record was 4–0.

Bob then went to the North Coast Sectional Division meet. Here he came out with a 4–1 record, and took second place. In the Sectional Wrestling Championships he walked out with fourth place, and a record of 3–2.

The big day came when Bob entered the California State Championship meets on March 2 and 3. He came home with a seventh place in State high school rankings, an outstanding achievement. Bob's coach throughout his high school wrestling activity was Jerry Linowski.

Vintage Twice

Below is the Varsity Basketball Team.

The first Napa-Vintage game was a very exciting one. Some 1500 fans watched, all sitting on pins and needles until time was called. But even then it was more tense when the score was 42–42 and a three minute overtime. was called.

The best of all quarters was the fourth. The ball changed hands no less than eight times and never was either team ahead by more than one point. Vintage hit with a 35–34 and right behind them came Monte Atkinson with his two points, making it 36–35. Then two free shots were awarded to Vintage. Napa then made another basket with Carl Gunderstrup's 15–footer.

A 41–40 Vintage lead soon followed. Drew Aguilar, Napa, popped a 10-footer basket with the score now 42–41. Vintage was awarded a free shot, which evened things up. The first two points were for Napa by Atkinson. Soon Afterward Carl Gunderstrup made a two point shot, making it 46–44. Vintage just made two points in the entire ovettime.

This is one of the many times that Napa has beaten Vintage in sports and hopefully will continue to do so. The fans that attended will agree that they really got their money's worth that night and also on the night of Nov. 10, 1972, the Napa-Vintage football game. All of us agree that Napa has really beaten Vintage soundly and know that Napa is best in sports in 1972–73.

In February Napa faced Vintage for the second time on the court, and narrowly won by a 43–41 score decided in the last second of play. Randy Lee dumped in the final winning two points for Napa amid a roaring, screaming capacity group of fans. The second game was played in the Vintage Gymnasium.

Varsity Track Squad - 1973

Coach Keith Orr had an excellent turnout for track in early March, as the squad above indicates. Very rainy weather, however, in the beginning of the season forced a number of meet cancellations.

Girls' Gymnastics Team

Members of the Girls' Gymnastics team are: Karen Ingalls, Mardy Nord, Diane DeLong, Tara Unger, Brends Reeves, Debbie Reynolds, Pam Wendt, and Trudy Slack.

Varsity Golf Team

Napanee Sports Dedicated to Chuck Miller

On March 8, 1973, a member of the Napa High Basketball team lost a final battle with leukemia. Chuck Miller, 17, die after four years of suffering.

Chuck, a senior, began the basketball season as an active and capable member of the squad. He was active in sport throughout his school years in both Napa High and Ridgeview Junior High.

Chuck made light of his debilitating disease and never permitted it to shadow his everyday activities. He lived his lif fully and with a vitality that put to shame the apathy of those people who faced a more certain future.

Because of the courage he showed in the face of a narrowing future, the staff of the Napanee wishes to dedicate thi year's sport section to the memory of Chuck Miller.

Napa is fortunate in having an excellent group of physical education instructors for girls. All are experienced in the spor they coach, and through their efforts the girls' inter-school sports activities have expanded in recent years.

In both basketball, swimming, and tennis our Napa girls have performed most creditably this past year. They have ha their lumps, of course, as any growing activity will when placed in competition with students in other schools who hav pursued a particular sport for a number of years.

This is an appropriate time, however, to extend congratulations to both the girls and the coaches who have spent hou of after-school time in practice sessions and meets with neighboring schools.

Napa High looks forward to an ever-increasing development of inter-school sports activities for girls.

While attendance on the part of spectators has not been particularly good this year, both the coaches and the girls ar hopeful that in the future greater spectator support will be forthcoming.

Varsity Swimmers

The New Napa High

Campus under Construction 1972

Napa Earns First Victory Bell

The Victory Bell stands as members of the Napa pep squad gather around it while Tom Fotinos, Napa High principal, talks to the students at the first Napa-Vintage basketball game. In the back row standing are: Rich Howe, KVON Sports; Keith Orr, Napa High coach; and Dave Templeton and Bruce Tonascia of the Napa Football team.

With the building of the two new high schools in Napa, a cross town rivalry was started between Napa and Vintage High. At the first Napa-Vintage basketball game, held on January 30, Napa High was awarded the very first "Victory Bell" by the local Napa radio station, KVON.

KVON searched all over for the bell and finally found one in Waynesboro, Va. Art Young of KVON, had the bell shipped to Napa and presented it at half-time. The bell has the appearance of being very old but really it is a replica bell made to look old. A plaque in the bell will have the dates and scores of all the Napa-Vintage football games from now on starting with the 18–0 Napa victory this season.

The cart on which the bell is mounted was originally made in Benicia in 1875 by a shipbuilding company. For many years the cart was used by a volunteer fire department for a hose cart. With the development of the horse-drawn fire engine, the cart fell into disuse and eventually was obtained by the wife of our welding instructor, Mrs. Don Farmer. The welding shop then rebuilt the cart so the bell could be mounted on it.

Napa High has the privilege of ringing the bell whenever we want to for the remainder of the year until the next Napa-Vintage football game. The winner of the "Big Game" will keep the bell for the whole year. Let's hope Napa will keep the "Victory Bell" for a long time.

Napa Girls Perform At '49er Games

Our Pom-Pon squad performed not only at Napa High games but also appeared at three of the San Francisco 49ers games by request.

For the first '49er game around 80 squads from all over the Bay area took part. Our Napa girls presented such a precision routine that they were asked to return to compete with the best Pom-poners from a limited number of high schools.

Again they were selected to appear at the championship game with the Dallas Cowboys. Our Napa girls won first place with a sharp routine presented on December 29, 1972.

In addition to their three performances for the San Francisco '49ers, the girls were invited to Fremont, California, where on February 10, 1973, they presented an outstanding routine considered among the best Pom-pon routines viewed in the 1972–73 sports year.

The Napa Navel Nailers beat the Burgandy Bruisers 26–22, Nov. 2, 1972, at Memorial Stadium. This was the first time that the two cross-town teams have met. The girls showed great determination and tremendous will power. They put a lot of hard long working hours into preparation for this game, and they deserved the game title.

Ecology Club

Dale Hytholt, Mick Anderson, Brad Morris

With only three members pictured, it might be assumed that the Ecology Club is a victim of student apathy.

Actually, picture–scheduling for the Napanee involved, as usual, some confusion, and in the case of this club a number of active members just didn't make it at the appointed time.

While interest in preserving our environment does not appear to be at the high peak it reached in the late 1960's, students still voice considerable concern over the exploitation of our natural resources.

Press Club Banquet

The Seventh Annual Napa High Press Club banquet was held at Giannini's, Third and Soscol, the evening of March 1
1973. Guests included Lynn Penny, Napa Register editor of the "School Days" section, Principal and Mrs. Tom Fotino
Director of Activities Ron Feist and his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hasting.

L. Pierce Carson, drama editor of the Napa Register, was the guest speaker.

Hostesses Welcomed Press Club Members and Guests

Dianna Duncan, Sue Barkhurst, and Kim Andersen served punch to the thirty-seven members and guests who attended the Seventh Annual Press Club banquet held at Giannini's on March 15, 1973.

Val Clerici, Injun-eer staff member, is caught almost unaware by the Injun-eer photographer as she holds a glass of punch served at the reception held prior to the Press Club banquet.

Press Club

In the spring of 1966 a group of high school journalists decided that a Press Club would be a helpful addition to their publications work.

The fall of 1966 saw the organization officially accepted by the ASB. Membership in Quill and Scroll, the International Organization for High School Journalists, was also gained at that time.

During the Spring Semester a banquet is held, with a distinguished speaker presenting various facets of the field of journalism. March 15, 1973, witnessed the Seventh Annual Press Club Banquet held at Giannini's.

Awards were presented to 27 high school journalists, covering cub, craftsman, and star reporter designations.

Seven members from the staffs of both the Napanee and Injun-eer made Quill and Scroll: Pam Sharrow, Diane DeLong, Dianna Duncan, Valerie Clerici, Dennis Burgess, Peggy O'brien, and Kim Andersen.

Colonel Carl Fuller is the faculty member in charge of the 23rd Battalion of the California Cadet Corps.

Napa High is justly proud of the fine record made by its cadets in state-wide competition, held yearly at various armories throughout the state.

Of particularly noteworthy comment is the rifle team composed of Napa High cadets. The team has brought many honors to our school in past years, and this year was equally successful.

Colonel Fuller is to be congratulated on the performance of his command. The color guard has been frequently commended by adult groups before which it has appeared, and the skill with which the corps has handled football crowds and parking chores makes Napa High proud to have this fine organization on campus.

Oh, How They Danced. . .

Kathy Evans, Becky Jackson, Kari Fitchner, Julie Cortland, Dana Moody, Val Silva.

C'mon, Let's Hear It Again . . .

A long tradition of participation during sports activities is being carried on admirably by the junior and varsity pom pon and yell leader tea s.

Napa is noted throughout the North Bay League schools for having an extremely vivacious and well-trained group of girls who appear in force at out-of-town games as well as those at home.

In spite of the mud and rain that plagued our home football games, as well as those at neighboring schools, our yell leaders and pom pon entertainers faithfully appeared to lighten the spirits of the sodden crowds and cheer on our teams to greater efforts.

Although the opening of a second high school reduced Napa High's student population to around 1760, no apparent difference could be detected in the enthusiasm of the student body to support our teams. And this sustained loyalty was in part due to the untiring efforts of the girls pictured on this and the neighboring page. They're a great bunch!

Dr. J. Win Payne

It Took Some Doing . . .

. . . and the man primarily responsible for leadership in a drive to pass a bond issue to build the new Napa High School is Dr. J. Win Payne, superintendent of schools.

In the late-sixties the Board of Trustees decided to go all out to construct two new high schools to replace the old South building, erected in 1922. But it wasn't easy.

Disappointment was widespread when it appeared that the community was highly concerned over the increase in taxes that would necessarily result if the two schools were to be a reality. A tireless effort by Dr. Payne, the board, a committee of lay individuals dedicated to the passage of the necessary bond issue, and an aroused student body finally resulted in success.

Vintage High, located in north Napa, was ready for occupancy when school opened in the fall of 1972. Napa high was under construction the first semester of the 1972–73 school year, but the Social Science department was able to move in around October 10, the English department and the administration by November, and the remaining departments finally made it to the new school in the second semester.

Students in both the new Vintage High and new Napa High agreed that education is a lot easier to take when the environment is conducive to learning . . . and that it certainly is!

First Faculty Meeting - Fall 1972

Tom Fotinos, principal, addresses the majority of the Napa High faculty at an early meeting in the new lecture hall located just east of the cafeteria.

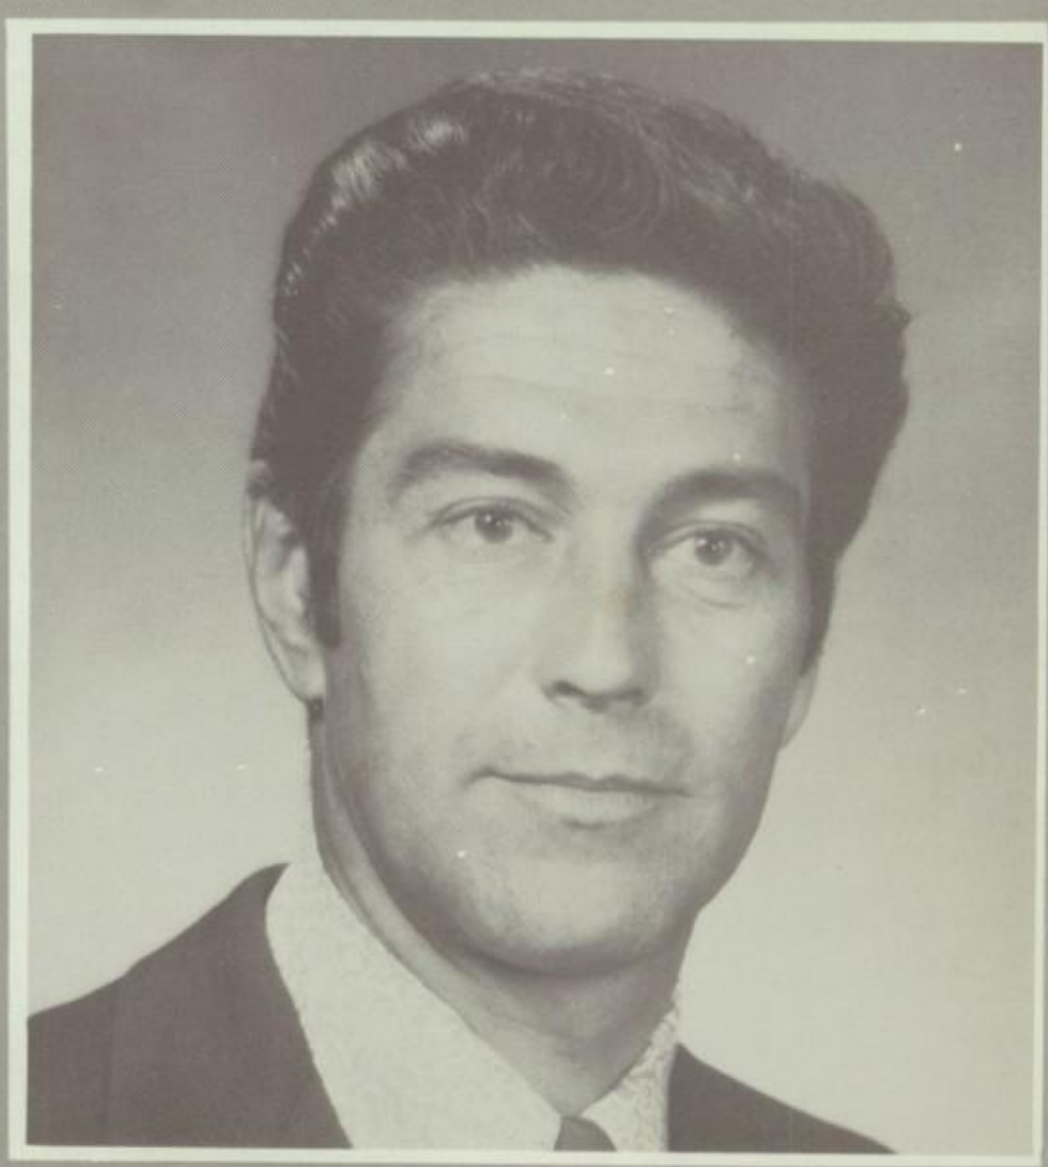
mes Rogers, assistant principal, is in charge of guidance, which includes ciplinary problems of boys.



Frank Silva, assistant principal, is involved with curriculum matters, which relate primarily to personnel situations.

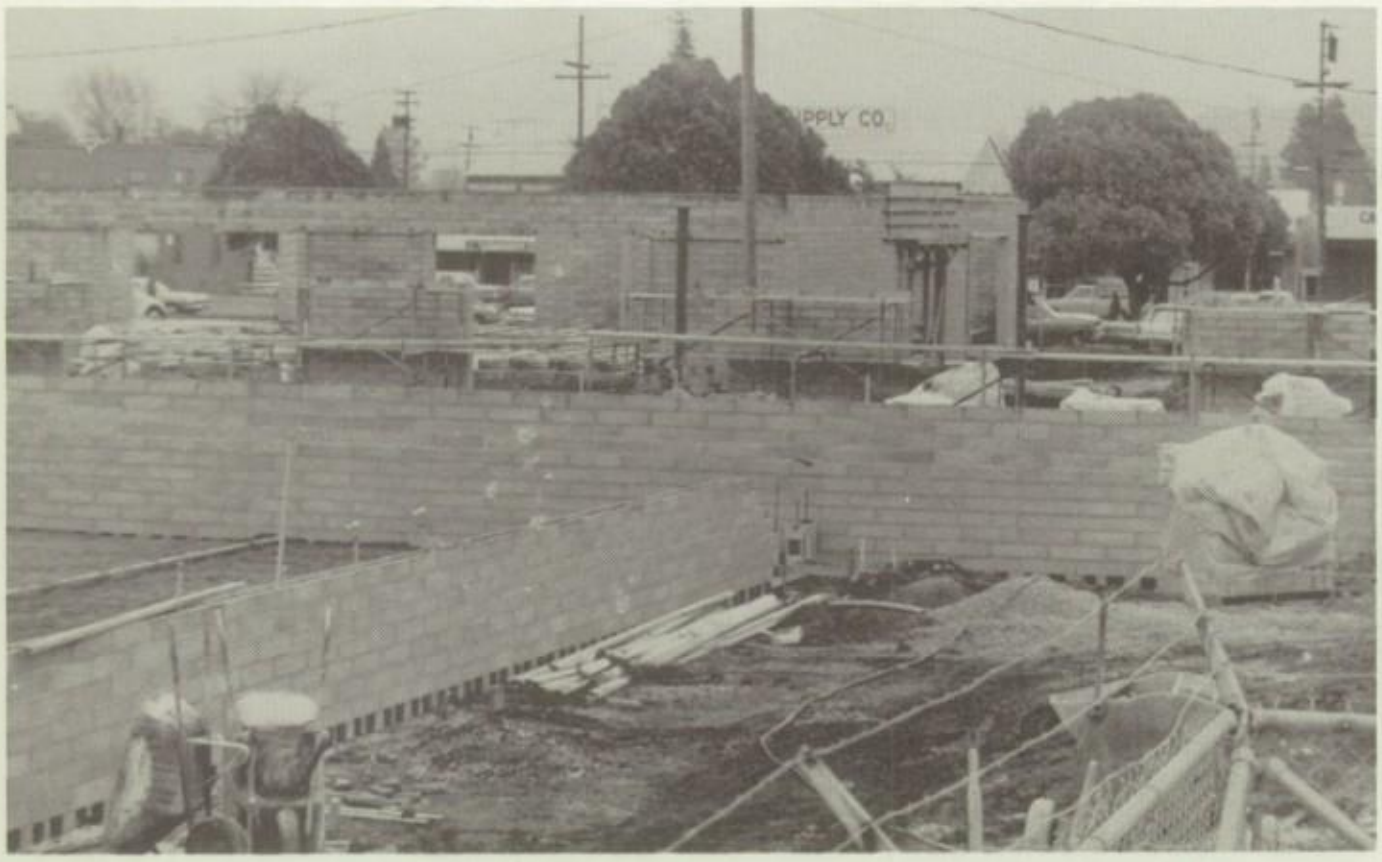
Several years ago the Key Club, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, erected a graffiti board near the swimming pool. At first the written communications were unprintable, but in time more suitable uses were found. Ultimately, both students and faculty were informed of a series of birth dates, all of which carried pleasant greetings.

Construction begins - Spring 1972,

on the new Napa High

Our nation suffered the loss of two former Presidents during the 1972–73 school year. President Harry S. Truman died on December 26, 1972, and President Lyndon B. Johnson died on January 22, 1973. Napa High was on vacation at the time of Truman's death, so it was not until the students returned to classes on January 2, 1973, that the traditional observance of lowering the flag to half-mast was instituted. Upon the death of Lyndon B. Johnson school was closed on the day he was buried, January 25, 1973. Our flag remained at half-mast until February 25, 1973.

Remember



Construction began in 1971 for the building of the new Napa High. Shown here is part of Stewart Hall, in the background, and the new English Department, which were finished toward the end of the '72 year.

One thing students have learne with certainty by the time the have reached senior status, and tha is that it is so easy to forget.

So . . . to help with good old reca we dredged up the pictures on thes two pages to preserve for you som of the sights (as well as the sites of early construction of our ne Napa High.

By February 15, 1973, the ne structures as well as the remodele rooms in the former Junior Colleg building were in full operation.

Shown here is the starting of the foundation for the new buildings, which were built where once used to be a grassy area. Here students met for lunch, gym, and to have an enjoyable time at school.

Remember when you walked throu the shade of tall trees at Napa Hig And when you sat on the grass a chatted idly with your friends?

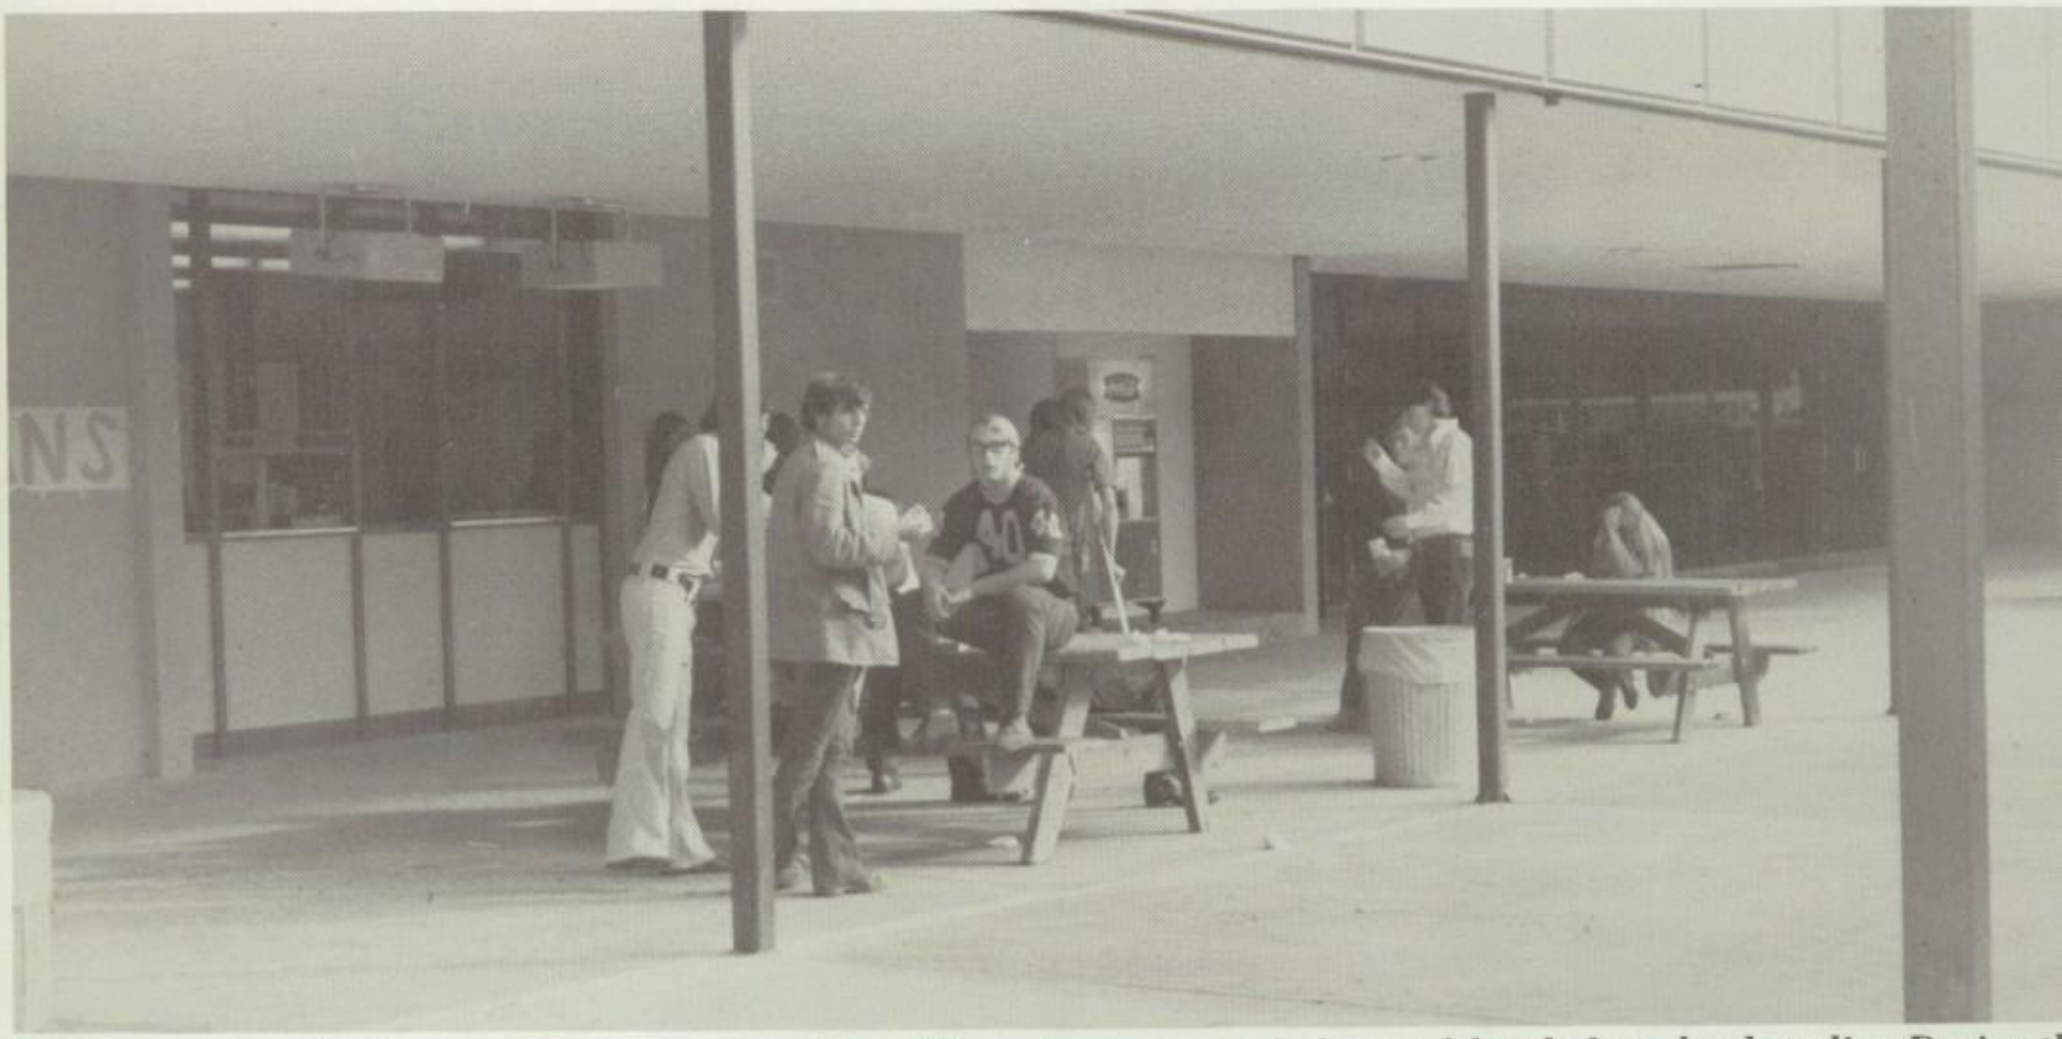
When . . .

Kennedy Way wasn't the same in the fall of 1972 as a fence was put up around the construction area. "Route 66" was closed and students had to crowd down Kennedy Way while passing to their classes.

Students sneak past the equipment as the building of the new Napa High school was under way. Students now do not walk on dirt, but have the easy travel way of cement walks.

Our New Cafeteria

Kent Scott, right looks as if he ca hardly wait to di into this hot plat lunch as Damia Kyle looks ove the display o food in our new cafeteria.



A time to relax. Students soak up Napa sunshine while enjoying a much-deserved break from hard studies. During t morning break the students also gather and chat with one another.

Satisfies Hungry Students

Shown here are Chuck Miller, Gabriel Kyle, and Juan Gomez as they partake in a delicious luncheon in the cafeteria after a morning of intense study.

Senior Bench

Sun Dial

Above: This official senior bench was a gift of the class of 1924. Tradition has it that only seniors are allowed to sit on it.

Right: This sundial was a gift of the class of 1959. The structure is in front of the old south campus building. The original sundial placed here was a gift from the class of 1927. Vandals destroyed it. The pedestal supporting the granite column is all that is left of the original gift.

Below: This memorial plaque was erected in memory of Donald Messner. Mr. Messner was the director of athletics when he died in the 1960's. The Messner gymnasium serves for all indoor athletic events and is used for general assemblies of the student body.

Napanee Staff Waves "Bon Voyage"

To the Graduating Seniors of 1973

At last the time has come for the members of the Class of 1973 to say "Goodbye" to their Alma Mater and fac the real world that lies ahead of them.

For the past three years hundreds of memories have been collected, and the tears on graduation day will be tribute to the friendships developed, the experiences enjoyed, and the learning gained during high school years.

Among these are certainly the pleasant hours spent lounging on the green, the earnest endevors of dedicate teachers to awaken an interest in difficult subjects, the excitement of sports, the fun skits at assemblies – all now a thin of the past.

A fond, reminiscent goodbye is extended to all those who will remain in Napa High to graduate another year.

Joyce Register: Fall editor-in-chief
Pam Sharrow: Spring editor-in-chief

A sincere thank you from the Napanee staff is extended to all who contributed to the 1973 yearbook, with special "Thank you" to the Napa Register, Terri Ow-Wing, Alex Caffi, and Joe Hasting, our advisor, for their help i supplying pictures. Coronet Portraits of Sacramento took many of the group pictures and activity "shots," and we than them for their patience in working with us.
